

DIETZ IS SHOT DOWN
CRAWLS TO CABIN

Firing Began at Cabin of Beseiged Man at 10 This Morning Appearance of Dietz and Son

SHOTS FROM EVERY POINT

Excitement at Winter Intense and Expected that Dietz Will be Taken Before Nightfall Special to The Dispatch:—

Winter, Wis., Oct. 8.—Firing began at the Dietz cabin about 10 o'clock this morning and it is reported that John Dietz has been wounded. The deputy sheriffs fired both at John Dietz and Leslie and the defenders of the cabin returned the fire with spirit. Father and son were greeted with fusillade of shots from every point of the compass when they exposed themselves outside of their cabin home, and in running for cover John Dietz suddenly went down to his knees, and he lay prostrate for a moment then scrambled back to his shack. He is believed to be wounded.

END SEEMS CLOSE AT HAND

Officers Expected to Soon Take the Defender of Cameron Dam Into Custody or Kill Him—All Peace Overtures Rejected by the Desperate Man Besieged in the Cabin on the Thornapple River.

Cameron Dam, Wis., Oct. 8.—F. W. Thorbahn, special deputy sheriff, has moved his cordon 200 feet nearer the Dietz cabin.

Thorbahn and Van Alstyne have crawled to a point close to the barn on the Dietz farm to await for daylight. When dawn comes it will simply be a question of whether they get Dietz or Dietz gets them first. Leslie had taken his blankets to the barn to spend the night. He and the two deputies will be at close range when morning discloses their positions. Thorbahn and Van Alstyne shook hands with Sheriff Madden before starting into the clearing, and Thorbahn said: "It will be Dietz or us."

John Dietz will be taken at dawn if he gives the deputies a chance at him unless some unforeseen event occurs to interfere. This prediction comes from Fred Thorbahn and the men with him at the firing line at Cameron dam. He will be given a chance to throw up his hands. If he doesn't or makes a move or even hesitates he will be shot down. The deputies say they are up against a desperate man who shoots to kill, and they are going to take no chances beyond the undoubted chance involved in giving the "hold up your hands" order.

There is a strong possibility that an assault may be made, although no statement to this effect was made. But the rumor has leaked into Winter that Dietz will never see the light again at least as a free man. Acting on this report, Father Joseph A. Pilon, the Catholic priest, is going to the clearing to administer first aid to the injured if necessary and extreme unction to the dead if there are fatalities.

Predicts His Own Death.

Predicting with his own tongue that he would be shot by the hordes of seventy-two deputy sheriffs and that he would die fearless a martyr to his cause and family, John Dietz repudiated the further offers of the secretary of state and the governor's private secretary, who had even gone so far as to guarantee the horny handed backwoodsman immunity from the law for all of the crimes charged up to him, as well as to the members of his family, with the exception of the Bert Horel shooting case.

Legal protection on transit to some other county in the state and the best of lawyers in the state to defend him were no inducement to make Dietz come out of his lowly log cabin as a prisoner of the law. He insists now that all claims against him in a civil way must also be dismissed before he will ever be taken captive alive. The old man apparently is not at all alarmed over the small sized army which is watching every curl of smoke, every waving clothesline, every action of every member of the little log cabin day and night.

The civil suits which Dietz wants settled involve a judgment of $20,000 against his wife, several against himself and a dispute over the title to the land on which he lives. Nearly all of these cases are the outcome of the bitter fight over Cameron dam and the holding up of some 30,000,000 feet of logs until the lumbering firm owning them satisfied the claims of the sharpshooting backwoodsman amounting to some $5,000.

Attorney Frank T. Gilbert of Madison, before leaving for the East after his fruitless attempt to get the "defender of Cameron dam" to surrender, said to Sheriff Madden, "Do your duty," and Madden is doing the best he can to comply. He is not, however, needlessly exposing his own person within range of the Dietz home.

SENATOR BURTON.

Delivers an Address Before American Bankers' Association.

SAY LAWS ARE NOT OBEYED

Citizens of Hibbing, Minn., Complain About Saloons.

St. Paul, Oct. 8.—A petition signed by thirty citizens of the village of Hibbing, Minn., asking Attorney General Simpson to take action in compelling the proprietors of saloons in the village to comply with the liquor laws, was filed with the attorney general. The citizens allege that saloons are open at all hours of the night and day, including Sunday, and that at present practically no efforts are being made to enforce the laws.

Immediately on receipt of the complaint and petition Attorney General Simpson wrote letters to the president of the village and the county attorney and sheriff of St. Louis county, notifying them of the action taken by the citizens. The president was told that if complaints were made to him his duty was clear, and upon failure to act "this office has no discretion." Sheriff Bates was informed that he would be held responsible by the attorney general for the future observance of all laws in Hibbing. A copy of the petition and Mr. Simpson's letters to St. Louis county officials were sent to the governor's office.

OUTLINES POLICY OF DEPARTMENT

Secretary Ballinger Rules on Minnesota Matter.

Washington, Oct. 8.—In a letter to the commissioner of Indian affairs Secretary Ballinger outlined what would be the policy of the interior department in the future relating to the law prohibiting the introduction of liquor into the Indian country of Northern Minnesota. Enforcement of the law without discrimination as to persons or territory is to be the rigid rule, according to Secretary Ballinger's decision, and a recent order from the Indian office, which set aside certain districts in the Indian territory as "wet" or "dry" sections, has been vacated.

Since the order was issued which provided in certain sections of the Indian territory the traffic in liquor would not be interfered with by the federal authorities, there developed protests from cities in the territory, principally Moorhead and Cass Lake, claiming that the order was discriminatory. Several delegations of officials from Minnesota have been in Washington to discuss the matter with Secretary Ballinger and, after carefully investigating the situation Mr. Ballinger determined that there should be no so-called "liquor" zones.

Referring to the federal regulations regarding the liquor traffic with Indians, Secretary Ballinger said in his letter:

"In the administration of these statutes the department cannot countenance discriminations or anything that savors of arbitrary, capricious or vexatious proceedings. The officers in the field are entrusted with a police duty to protect the Indians under their supervision from the introduction of liquor as contemplated by the statute. You will therefore instruct your officers to secure convictions for violations of these statutes where the evidence is available, and proceed throughout the territory involved to enforce the law without discrimination as to persons or territory."

GLOUCESTER HAS PAPPOOSE.

First In 150 Years Honors Famous Fishing Town.

Cooling, bright eyed Mary Toney, less than two weeks' old, is the pride of her parents, Joseph Toney and his wife, of Gloucester, Mass. She is the first Indian baby born in the fish city in 150 years.

The baby's grandmother acts as nurse. She smiles when she dresses the little one, remarking: "No clothes no powder, when I was young." Mrs. Toney explains, "The babies of that time, among the members of our race, were wrapped in blankets after their birth, which was achieved without attendance, of course, of any physician, as such were few and far between, and very hard to be had. To come to the district where, even in cases of what were considered more serious emergencies."

TENNESSEE MAN IS PRESIDENT

F. O. Watts Head of American Bankers' Association.

ADDRESS BY SENATOR BURTON

Ohio Man Tells Bankers About the Work of the Monetary Commission. Convention Goes on Record as Favoring a Plan to Hold an Exposition in 1915 in Commemoration of the Opening of the Panama Canal.

Los Angeles, Oct. 8.—F. O. Watts of Nashville, Tenn., was elected president and William Livingstone of Detroit vice president of the American Bankers' association at the final session of the convention of the association here.

The convention went on record as endorsing a plan to hold an exposition in 1915, in commemoration of the opening of the Panama canal, but no endorsement of a site was made. Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines made a speech in which he said apathy of the bankers was responsible for the passage of the postal savings bank act.

Harold Remington of New York, reference in the famous Castle Chadwick case, read an exhaustive paper on the "Bankers and Bankruptcy Law."

A resolution asking congress to appropriate sufficient funds to defray the cost of transporting silver free of charge in the United States was adopted.

Just before the adjournment President Pierson gave way to the newly elected president, who was warmly received by the delegates. President Watts was presented with a handsome silver loving cup from forty Nashville friends.

Senator Theodore E. Burton, member of the monetary commission, addressed the convention.

Time Is Not Long.

"The criticism may have arisen," said Senator Burton, "that the commission has made tardy progress in its work, because for more than two years now no concrete proposition for legislation has been presented. But when we consider the magnitude of interests involved and the contrariety of opinions to be harmonized the time is not long. It is better to be assured that projected legislation will be helpful and will command popular approval than to enact ill digested laws and regulations which would have to be changed within a few years. Thus far the time has been usefully occupied in obtaining a basis upon which to act."

Continuing, the speaker suggested that "an important reform would be to require the directors of national banks to give closer attention to the management of the banks with which they are connected so that they may not be mere deadheads in determining its policies."

"I may remark, in passing, that the decided tendency in other countries has been towards a centralization of note issue in a single institution or agency," said the senator.

IT MAY INCLUDE DULUTH

South Dakota Railroad Commissioners Likely to Amend Complaint.

Dell Rapids, S. D., Oct. 8.—The South Dakota board of railroad commissioners is in session here, with Charles Macdonald, secretary of the Duluth Board of Trade, and Mr. Hall, the executive manager of the Duluth Traffic association. These men are representing the interests of Duluth, which desire the South Dakota board to amend its complaint filed with the interstate commerce commission, asking a reduction of freight rates on grains from South Dakota points to the primary grain markets of Minneapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee and Omaha, to include Duluth as one of the primary markets to be affected. The hearing is to be held at Aberdeen on Monday, and it is expected the complaint will be amended to include Duluth.

TWELVE MEN SNOWBOUND

Relief Expedition Being Formed to Save Them.

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 8.—The local forestry officials report a force of twelve men snowbound at the head of Fish Lake in the Clearwater country. This is a force of trail builders which has been engaged in building a route from Lolo pass to St. Paul pass, a distance of 100 miles. The men were operating on the Lolo divide about forty miles from Lolo hot springs, their base, when the snowstorm cut them off from their supplies and horses. Foreman Berg arrived at Lolo Springs on snow shoes and reported the dire condition of his men. A relief expedition is being formed.

ABE ATTELL.

Champion Easily Defeats Frank White of Chicago.

ATTELL IS AN EASY WINNER

Hebrew Defeats Frankie White of Chicago.

Milwaukee, Oct. 8.—Abe Attell, the champion featherweight, outfought Frankie White of Chicago at almost every stage of a ten-round no decision bout before the Badger Athletic club at the Hippodrome building.

From the tap of the bell in the first round Attell seemed able to plant blows wherever he pleased at will and only in a few instances was the Chicago boy able to make a momentary showing. A decision was not necessary, even if the law permitted one, as it was the unanimous opinion in favor of the Hebrew. The boys fought at 120 pounds.

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY
LOSS IN IOWA TOWN

Damage Placed at Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

Mason City, Ia., Oct. 8.—One hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the estimated loss from fire in the destruction of the Mason City Transfer and Storage company's building and contents. The following are the losers:

International Harvester company, Chicago, $15,000; John Deere Plow company, Moline, Ill., $15,000; Smith Manufacturing company, Chicago, $10,000; Lingsay Brothers Milwaukee, $5,000; Dain Manufacturing company, Ottumwa, Ia., $5,000.

The International Harvester company carries its own insurance. It sets aside a certain insurance fund each year for this purpose. The other companies are all insured on goods in storage or in transit at the point of shipment. The building was insured for $5,000.

I. W. Keerlis is the president and C. H. Keidel the secretary-treasurer of the Mason City Transfer and Storage plant.

UNCONSCIOUS AT THROTTLE

Engineer of Fast Great Northern Train Injured.

Barnesville, Minn., Oct. 8.—While leaning from the cab window to inspect the injector on his locomotive, Engineer Dubois of Grand Forks struck his head against a tower a short distance out of Grand Forks and for forty miles the passengers on the Oriental limited, one of the fastest trains on the Great Northern road, traveled with an unconscious engineer at the throttle. The train sped through several small towns, the engineer bleeding and unconscious at the cab window. It was not until Fireman Morrow, also of Grand Forks, spoke to the engineer to inquire why they were losing time that his condition was discovered.

Throwing coal into the engine, the fireman worked over the unconscious engineer until he was restored to consciousness, the train meanwhile speeding onward at sixty miles an hour.

Although the deep gash received when his head struck the tower bled profusely and caused him great pain, Dubois remained at the throttle until the train reached this city.

Weak from loss of blood, Dubois was taken to the road physician's office where the wound was dressed. He was sent home on the next train.

Englishman Heads Congress.

Washington, Oct. 8.—With the work of the eighth international prison congress practically concluded delegates began leaving after the executive body had chosen London for the next meeting in 1915 and had selected Sir Evelyn Ruggles Brice, K. C. B., for the presidency of the congress.

Boy Fatally Hurt.

Lead, S. D., Oct. 8.—For the second time within two weeks a fatal automobile accident occurred in this section when a car driven by Dr. Walter A. Vercoe ran down and fatally injured nine-year-old George Trenway. He was dragged a dozen yards and his skull crushed.

QUIET REIGNS
IN THE CAPITOLBLACKSMITH ON WAY TO SENATE

Breckenridge of St. Joseph Sure Missouri Will Send Him.

NOT BELIEVER IN ORATORY.

Postage Stamp Campaign Suits Democratic Candidate, Who Has Traveled 100,000 Miles, Knows Seven Trades and Is World's Champion Horseshoer, Clog Dancer and Trick Roper.

John F. Breckenridge, the St. Joseph horseshoer, says he believes he will be nominated by the Democrats of Missouri for United States senator at the November election. Breckenridge says that in some quarters there is a disposition to regard his candidacy as a joke, but that there is a surprise in store for those who are so inclined.

Breckenridge is master of seven trades and professions and a three time champion of the world. His accomplishments range from the writing of a textbook on constitutional law to clog dancing. At present he is working at one of his trades, that of horse-shoer.

Breckenridge has been sending out loads of literature bearing his portrait and a thumbnail version of his platform, and this he is having posted in every county of Missouri. He hasn't much confidence in speechmaking. He says it is out of date. But he is anchoring his confidence to his postage stamp campaign and the labor people, and if he doesn't win it won't be because of his modesty.

Is Triple World's Champion.

He admits to holding the following world's championships: Champion trick roper, champion clog dancer and champion horseshoe maker.

Breckenridge numbers among his professions the ability to write songs and poetry, to engrave wood, to paint in oil and pastel. He is a showman, a hammersmith, a traveler and a historian. He has written many ballads, nineteen of which have been copyrighted. One of them runs like this:

Were I a little bumblebee
I'd hum around and sing;
I'd dip down in a clover patch
And live on the sweetest thing.
I'd fly away up in the hills,
I'd hide in a hollow tree,
If I had the wings and stings and things
Like a little bumblebee.

Since 1894 Breckenridge has traveled 100,000 miles. He has been to Europe twice, has toured South America and has lived two years in old Mexico. While in Mexico he participated as a pleader in seventeen professional bull-fights, not to mention the amateur engagements. As a trick rider and roper he has traveled with Buffalo Bill, Pawnee Bill, Cole Younger and the 101 Ranch shows.

He can repeat the constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence; he can tell the name of every king of any moment since the beginning of the world and most of what he did under his reign, not to mention the presidents of republics, and he knows the real inside, unwritten history of the break between Jefferson and Hamilton.

Has Run For Office Before.

This is not Breckenridge's first dip into the political pool. Four years ago he ran for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Twenty-second (East St. Louis) Illinois district, and two-thirds of the delegates in the convention were pledged for him, he says. But the election board was controlled by Republicans, and they took advantage of the fact that he had no way of getting his delegates to the convention. It is a sad story, but Mr. Breckenridge smiles as he tells it, displaying two rather un-democratic gold teeth. He is a cheerful loser, he says.

The candidate was surprised in the act of grooming himself for membership in the "Millionaires' club" by winking a red-hot horseshoe. With the grime of one of his craft yet upon him and the mighty muscles of his arm swelling playfully he told of his ambition to go to congress and start a few things that would be in accordance with the constitution, which, he insists, is practically ignored by legislators these days.

Breckenridge is fifty years old and a widower. He is a native of Ohio. He learned horseshoeing in Kansas City and is a member of the union in East St. Louis.

"How do I stand on the tariff?" he repeated. "Well, I am convinced that combined capital, protected by a high tariff, prevents the consumer from buying in a foreign market and that the opposition to a tariff for revenue only destroys commerce and industry."

Politically.

"How are you going to meet the arguments of your opponents?" "Easily," replied the statesman. "They can't find a successful thing, live can't find a successful thing, with all the brass bands in my pocket."—Washington Star.

All Disturbances Suppressed in Portugal.

NOW IN UNDISPUTED CONTROL

New Government Not Molested by Royalists—Business Is Resumed at Lisbon—President Braga Outlines the Aims of the Republican Party. Would Separate Church and State.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—The establishment of a republic in Portugal is an accomplished fact. For a city that has just passed through the throes of a bloody revolution and sustained a bombardment Lisbon is in cloudless sunshine and wears a smiling aspect.

The Republican flag flutters on nearly every building and from every vehicle; the streets are thronged with promenaders, including a good sprinkling of tourists with guide books in hand; shops and offices have been reopened and business generally has been resumed. The only evidence of the recent perturbation are small bodies of troops stationed in the principal open spaces of the city and the passage now and then of Red Cross ambulances.

The noticeable outward signs of the new regime are the presence everywhere of the green and red flag of the republic and the complete disappearance of King Manuel's portrait from public exhibition.

The most interesting man in Portugal at the present moment is the new president, Theophile Braga, who may be said without exaggeration to be the father not only of this revolution, but of that in Brazil, having by his standing as a professor of history and philosophy prepared the ground for both movements.

The president's unassuming manners may be inferred from the fact that after having been elected first president of Portugal, he returned as usual in a second class compartment of the train to his unpretentious little home in the suburbs.

Had No Personal Aim.

Braga has no many spare moments, but he was kind enough to receive a press correspondent. He particularly desires it to be understood that the revolution had no military or personal aim, but, like those in Brazil and Turkey, was purely the outcome of philosophical ideas. The Braganza dynasty had failed to keep abreast of modern progress, he said, and had done nothing to render the people masters of their own destinies. One of the means by which the late dynasty had tried to maintain its position, he said, was continually to menace the people with British intervention to crush popular sentiment, as if an ancient alliance between the two nations was one between dynasties and not peoples. He announced the policy of his government to be:

The development of public instruction and national defenses on land and sea; administration decentralization; colonial autonomy; to guarantee fundamental liberties by judicial power; expulsion of monks and nuns; obligatory civil registration; separation of church and state and the strengthening of the credit and finance of the country.

King May Live in France.

Madrid, Oct. 8.—Premier Canalejas received reports that it was the intention of the Portuguese royal family ultimately to go to France to a chateau owned by the Duke of Orleans or to install themselves on the property of the Countess of Paris, the palace of Villamarique, at Seville.

ROOSEVELT IN THE SOUTH

Delivers Addresses at Knoxville and Bristol, Tenn.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 8.—The South gave Theodore Roosevelt a welcome which he described as "great, big, George." The first day of his trip took him across Virginia and a part of Tennessee and he received all the honors the South could pay.

He made his first speech before he had finished breakfast and kept at it until late at night, before his train left Knoxville for Atlanta.

The colonel talked "new nationalism." He brought into the South the doctrine he announced on his Western trip and emphasized it. He defended it from the criticism which have been directed against it and said it was not revolutionary, but rather was designed to put a stop to things which might bring on a revolutionary movement. He also put a few words about his fight in New York state, saying he was trying to improve conditions there.

The two chief speeches of the day were delivered at Bristol, Tenn., and Knoxville.

Puts Onus on His Dog.

Superior, Wis., Oct. 8.—Herman Syring had a novel defense when arrested for shooting deer out of season. "The evidence hanging in his barn," he said, "was one of them was brought down by his dog. The other he could not identify. I only exclaim, but as it is a deer, I will not offend the court let him call it a doctor's prescription in the time of Pharaoh.—Exchange.

JAMES WIPE YOU BAUDETTE

The Whole Town is Burned by a Forest Fire Which Levelled the Piece Last Night

Kellier in Great Danger This Morning and the Fire is Raging on Three Sides of it

Last night fierce fires wiped out the entire town of Baudette. The only building visible this morning was the depot of the Canadian Northern railway which was only saved after superhuman exertion.

On all sides is seen the awful destruction wrought by the flames. People are homeless and in great suffering. So far no loss of life has been reported.

This morning the flames closed in on Kellier on the Minnesota and International railways. Trains of logs were run from the sidings in town to places of safety.

A passenger train was held in readiness to go to the rescue of the people. The flames are reported under control. The fire at noon was burning immediately near town on three sides of it.

REV. CAROLINE BARTLETT CRANE

Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, who will lecture in Brainerd this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon, arrived in the city early this morning from Duluth. C. E. Social
The C. E. of the Presbyterian church held an informal reception last evening at the home of Mrs. Robertson. A delightful time was had by all of their friends.

A musical program was given. Miss Kempton, Miss Smythe, Mrs. Ludwig, Mr. Rye and Mr. Kroes were the soloists of the evening and proved themselves worthy of the same. Miss Mysen, in her usual pleasing manner, gave several piano selections. Mr. Malm gave two readings which won him hearty applause. Capt. Corlies and Lieut. Schulz rendered a cornet duet with which the audience was so pleased that the young men were compelled to play another.

Light refreshments were served and the company disbanded having enjoyed the hospitality of the Christian Endeavors.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"The Volunteer Organist"

Modern stage realism it is admitted has reached the scene of perfection. There is not an invention known to the art of the stage carpenter that has not been introduced at our play houses, and in these days of scenic production anything novel in the way of effect is certain to command immediate attention. When B. Gray, the well-known playwright, wrote the popular pastoral drama, "The Volunteer Organist," which is to be produced at the Brainerd opera house TONIGHT, he had one ambition in view outside of making his play appeal to all classes of theatre-goers, and that was to have the scenic end of it as up-to-date as possible. In the third act of Mr. Gray's play, there is a church scene which has been pronounced by able critics as being the most absorbing part of an exceptionally interesting play. In fact, this scene has been made so true and real that as soon as the curtain rises on it one is immediately transferred into the realms of all that is holy.

This evening's prices 25, 50, 75 and $1.00.

"Paid in Full"
Ashton Stevens, in the New York Journal, had this to say on its first production of the now famous play "Paid in Full."

"Paid in Full," the newest American play by the newest American dramatist, Eugene Walter, held an audience breathless during many moments of its production at the Astor theatre last night.

"It is a straight-going play. The only thrill is humor, and most of this welcome quality springs naturally from the structure of the play and the disposition of the characters.

There is a play and performance absolutely representative of contemporary drama and American acting, and it my opinion that the managers the Wagenhals & Kemper company, will be paid in full."

"Paid in Full" will be seen at the Brainerd opera house on Wednesday evening, October 19th.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL HAVE BANQUET

Spread to Take Place at the Ransford Hotel on Tuesday Evening of Next Week, Oct. 11

A FINE PROGRAM ARRANGED

Club is Flourishing Financially and Has an Increasing Membership—New Quarters Secured

The Brainerd Commercial club is now one of the fixed institutions of the city and it is an organization that should be sustained by the citizens in a manner fitting its importance. That Brainerd with its bright future and the many things to claim the attention of its citizens should have some central body to look after the interests and in a way make it possible to entertain the strangers who come within our gates, furnish information to outsiders, and consider propositions affecting the welfare of the city, goes without saying. It is an organization that any city should have and sustain. The Brainerd Commercial club is in better condition today than it has been since its organization, and with the prospect of elegant new quarters in the Iron Exchange when completed the membership will increase. Along the lines of progress the club has arranged for a dinner which will take place at the Ransford hotel on Tuesday evening of next week, Oct. 11, and at that time matters of importance will be discussed and the affair will be a profitable one as well as a pleasant social function. The programme as outlined by the toastmaster, Col. A. J. Halsted, is as follows:

History of Brainerd Commercial Club, A. J. Halsted.

Object of a Commercial Club, Carl Zapffe.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Mr. Cobb spoke to a meeting of the high school girls of the importance of becoming interested in literary work. He urged that a better high school spirit would become more prevalent if a large number became interested in a literary society. He hoped that the whole high school could be organized for general literary work. And this in no way to interfere with the work of the clubs.

On Wednesday evening the Gauda Delta Sigma held their first meeting for this session. On account of the number of applications for membership it was decided to increase the limit of the club to fifty. Work for this coming term was discussed but no definite arrangements were made.

The boys debating club held a meeting on Monday evening. The committee appointed to revise the constitution reported, and their report was adopted. There is much good material this year for a strong club and it is expected that a number of vigorously contested debates will take place this season. The following officers were elected:

President—Richard Isle.

Vice President—Kenneth Ribbel.

Secretary—William Twohey.

Treasurer—E. Oscar Swanson.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"Why do you call your story 'The Thieves' Romance'?"
"Because it is all about stealing."
"How?"

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:
"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my household work alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.
"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

Curious Apache Belief.

The Apache Indians' religious belief prevents them from committing murder in the dark. If a dozen Apaches should discover a man sleeping by his campfire at night no amount of money would hire them to attack him until the sun came up. They believe that if they kill a man at night their own souls will walk in eternal darkness forever. Walking this curious superstition, hunters, scouts, trappers and others traveling through the Apache nation in the old days moved about during the night and lay by in some safe retreat during the day.

CURES BAD STOMACH

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Five Minutes After Taking Diapepsin

If your meals don't fit comfortably or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour undigested food and acid, heartburn, brach or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which soars your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of dyspepsia, sick headache, biliousness, constipation, griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that fermentation and sour stomach causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble catarrh of the stomach, nervousness or gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.
Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

A Bright Blacksmith.
The greatest improvement in vehicle construction was when some bright blacksmith thought of heating the tires and shrinking them on the wheel. While many claim the honor, it is not known to whom it rightly belongs. Previous to this event tires were made in short sections and held on the felloes with nails. When starting on a long haul the driver always laid in a good supply of nails to use on the trip.—Shop Notes Quarterly.

HUDSON BAY IS VAST IN WEALTH

Earl Grey's Tour of Unexplored Canada an Eye Opener.

DEVELOPMENT WORK CERTAIN

Governor General Treads Paths Limited to Indians and Wild Game, but Finds Navigation of Northern Sea Practicable For Transportation of Grain and Ore.

Nothing in the period of Earl Grey's governor generalship of the Dominion of Canada has been more spectacular or more indicative of his interest in the vast extent of territory which he serves than the journey to and across Hudson's bay, which he has just accomplished.

By canoe and portage, whaleboat and sailing vessel Earl Grey traveled as a voyager of the old adventurous days over the same trails, packed hard by the moosecained feet of 100 years, in the same manner as did Hearne, the explorer, or Mackenzie, the dauntless, or many another of the Hudson Bay company's pioneers of 200 and 300 years ago.

It was a land at a standstill his excellency passed through.

Country Almost Unexplored.

The country had never been explored from any point of view other than that of the hunter after fur peltries until Earl Grey and his companions passed through. Although its rivers have been the highroads of commerce for many years, little information other than the amount of the season's fur catch has been sifted from the country.

And this is most natural. For while Canada as a whole has been advancing rapidly, this district has been marking time. Wedged in between the great wheat acres of the south, the blown Hudson's bay to the north, the mixed farming country of the Saskatchewan to the west and the mining regions of new Ontario to the eastward, this vast and almost inaccessible area has held sullenly aloof from the white man and is tracked only by Indians and game. Until vicereignty appeared it was a barren land—a desert within an oasis. Now the magic wand of power and prestige waves over the country, and it becomes a land of gold, of wheat and of many riches.

Members of the party also bring back word of what the outside world has ever suspected to be the case—that it is a huntsman's and fisherman's paradise, a limitless holiday ground for millions of people. They also tell tales of meeting men—men of the frontier—miners and prospectors, who have staked out claims in quartz and sand. One old veteran on Pipestone lake showed them mica, and the party itself discovered petroleum without having to be shown.

Transportation Facilities Needed.

But the wealth of the country is of little use unless some means can be employed to get it out to the civilized markets of the world, and it is most interesting and encouraging to all Canadians to hear what Earl Grey and his companions have to say upon the feasibility of the Hudson bay route as an outlet for the western harvest and the products of the Keewatin and Ungava.

For 178 years Hudson bay has been navigated by traders and whalers' ships continuously with the exception of one year. Still scientists speak dubiously of the possibility of making use of Hudson bay for commercial purposes, and old and wily navigators smile caustically and shake their heads when they are told within a decade the northern route will duplicate the St. Lawrence trade.

Ships have frequented the bay for three hundred years and more, and scarcely a ship has experienced serious trouble, although the majority of them have been sailing vessels without auxiliary power to keep them moving through the ice. There are no artificial aids to navigation in the bay, no detailed or accurate charts being available, no currents, no magnetism carefully worked out.

Channels Always Navigable.

Earl Grey has had compiled a list, a very incomplete list, but none the less valuable, of the most experienced and intelligent of the American and Scotch whaling masters who have been accustomed to navigate the straits each year. From these the opinion appears to be unanimous that during the autumn and summer months at any rate should drift ice occur in these parts, open water, suitable for the passage of steamers, can always be found between it and the shores.

Earl Grey has put an end to another misbelief. Hudson bay never has and never will be frozen over in winter. He has this on the authority of Indians, Eskimos, trappers and traders who, either themselves or their ancestors, have inhabited the shores of the bay for centuries. The bay may sometimes be more or less covered with floating ice, but its great depth and the strength of its currents make its surface proof against frost.

Opium Joint in State Capitol.
An old frame building at Colorado City, often called Colorado's first capitol building, was raided recently by United States officers and an alleged opium lair was seized.

Bamboo Cooking Utensils.
The Dyaks of Borneo boil their food in bamboo cut into lengths of about two or three feet. These are placed over the fire in such a position that the joint of the bamboo does not come in contact with the fire, but rests upon the ground beyond. The fire is placed under the green and harder part of the cane, which, by its silicious coating, resists the action of the flame until the provisions are sufficiently prepared. A bundle of leaves placed in the mouth of the bamboo serves the purpose of the lid of an ordinary cooking vessel.

Making It Simple.
The scholarly looking man with the big eyeglasses had been invited to address the Sunday school and was making a few remarks concerning the lesson.

"I see the word 'line' occurs here," he said. "Will some one give me a definition of 'line'?"
Nobody answered.
"It is very easy," he proceeded encouragingly, "though you may find it a little perplexing to convey the idea in simple terms. Try again. Well, the ordinary signification of the word is longitudinal extension, but here it denotes a predetermined boundary. I am sure, my young friends, you can remember that."

Definite Location.
Every visitor at the capitol at Harrisburg, Pa., who gets as far as the registration room is expected to write his name in a big book, together with his birthplace and present residence, says the Troy Times. Not long ago, when a crowd of excursionists visited the grounds and buildings, a stout girl started to register.
She paused, pen poised in air, and called out to an elderly lady comfortably seated in a big chair, "Mon, vere vas I borned at?"
"Vat you want to know dat for?"
"Dis man wants to put it in der big book."
"Ach," answered the mother, "you know vell enough—in der old stone house."

I desire to be elected, of course, and to be elected I must have the support and vote of my friends. I trust I can have the support and vote of all those citizens who believe the district would be better represented by my being there. If elected I shall try to merit your approval by my conduct in the legislature.

MANY RATES ARE SUSPENDED

Six Hundred Common Carriers Affected by Ruling.

Washington, Oct. 8.—A suspension was made by the interstate commerce commission of a general tariff affecting between 500 and 600 interstate carriers throughout the United States. The carriers affected are both rail and water lines.

The tariffs were filed by agents representing the various lines. All were to have become effective Oct. 10. By order of the commission they are suspended until Feb. 6, 1911.

The suspensions apply particularly to rates on both class and commodity freight from points of Eastern origin to the Pacific Northwest and British Columbia points.

It is the purpose of the commission to institute an inquiry into the proposed tariffs in the course of a few weeks, with a view to determining their reasonableness or unreasonableness prior to the date of ultimate suspension.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.
P. M. Bislar, 412 S. Twelfth St., Brainerd, Minn., says "I suffered from attacks of kidney trouble for some years. There was a lameness across the small of my back, which developed into a constant, dull ache and when the attacks were at their height, the kidney secretions became irregular in passage and deposited sediment. This was sufficient proof that my kidneys were disordered and when I heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I procured a box at a local drug store. A local physician said that I could use nothing better. They entirely cured me and my experience has proven them to be a very effective remedy."
